Color guard Report:

Rob: Upcoming needs:

- Award's night invitations have been mailed to parent's.
- Winter concert needs: volunteers at the gates to take money. Joel would like light refreshments and recliner for Mark's final concert.
- Celebration of Life: call time 11:00. Mardine is heading up the food and has met with staff from OHS; all of Cierra's favorite foods will be served. A small lunch will be provided for the family before the Celebration. She is working on a Sign-up Genius for other needs. Leigh said Carly is going to send the link to the Argus so the community can get involved. Idaho Pizza and Fiesta have both committed to contribute.
- Jill has a possible new source for paper goods for serving, but is still waiting for a quote back. We could possibly purchase items for Celebration and then extras could be used for PRD or other needs. She proposed that Boosters cover the costs of these paper goods: Joel made a motion and Mardine seconded, motion carried.

- PRD is on pause until the Celebration of Life is over.

Willa: Steve Nyce from Bucks Bags has been playing phone tag. He is supposed to call her tomorrow with a bid. Cords for graduation are needed. Trailer update: her contact has not had time to look at the trailer.

Verna: Is there a Little Spinner's program scheduled? Trina said "no". On behalf of Kurt; one company declined the work as they are too busy; Nelson's gave a bid $2400 bid on the trailer was to build and install new access doors in the lower area of the nose of the trailer. He has one other person to contact. Verna is still working with Notus on selling them some of our old flags. Do we want a quilt for the PRD? If so, Verna will work out the details with Mardine.

Band Director's Report: Joel Williams The Celebration is taking precedence at the moment. Pep Band is chugging along. Concert on 2/25 is going to be a really cool send-off for Mark Lasnick. Winter Guard and indoor percussion are working hard, as is the drum line. Mark, Nick and Joel are going to Portland for the All Northwest Clinic in February for some fresh ideas. Second semester, lost a couple students but picked up a couple. Uniforms are ordered and they should be here by Spring Fair.

Leigh: Lions Club is hoping that the band is able to help with chicken dinner in May.

Miscellaneous: Rob wondered if we can continue with a single meeting, since we are such a small group. Rob is going to check the bylaws. Proposed the first Tuesday for the meeting, all agreed.

Joel said that Konnie Baines from the Olde School offered to pay 6 band kids to help move items out and into a container. A Remind has been sent up. There is a game and a dance that night. Mattress fundraiser will be April 13th.

6:37 pm Willa moved that we adjourn and Jill seconded. Motion carried.
